

Warehouse and Storage Services

The RK group has done a great job handling inventory management, warehousing and transportation needs for my company. They are service oriented, focusing on quality and keeping the production supply on schedule.

Most importantly, they are a good business partner, always willing to work through process improvements in an open, positive, and dynamic style to implement best practices while maintaining excellent relationships to our mutual benefit.

RK gets an A.

Corporate Logistics Manger,
Semiconductor Manufacturing

The RK Logistics Group not only offers over 100,000 sq. ft. of dedicated storage space in the Heart of Silicon Valley, but also can coordinate access to unlimited warehouse space to meet your changing business needs. Combined with very specialized services that include professional distribution and transportation, our warehouse becomes an expansion of your own company to provide convenient storage, inventory control and other services.

Storage and Warehousing

We specialize in both long-term and short-term storage. Our team of knowledgeable warehouse personnel and account managers provide the expertise to help you manage your inventory better. Our state-of-the-art warehouse management system helps keep an accurate account of your inventory at all times. Our warehouse systems and services are designed to handle everything from electronic products to lab equipment to raw materials.

Consolidation and Distribution

Our distribution services help businesses optimize their facilities or operations through improved accuracy, increased management control and enhanced decision support systems for superior business planning.

continued on reverse...

To this day I have yet to receive a sales pitch or freight quote from another logistics company that even comes close to The RK Group's unbeatable combination of great pricing, personal attention, personable staff, attention to detail, and a variety of solutions for our freight needs.

Customer Service Manager,
Medical Device Company

Warehouse and Storage Services

Pick and Pack / Kitting

Our experienced workers perform efficient pick and pack operations to streamline your business operations. Years of experience gives us a tremendous edge over the competition and allows us to store, pick, pack, kit and ship any type of merchandise in the most efficient fashion.

Crossdock

We appreciate the importance of quickly receiving your merchandise, sorting it, segregating it and shipping it out to various destinations. We can do all these operations in a time span of just a few hours.

A Secure Environment

We take security seriously at The RK Logistics Group. Our warehouse facilities are equipped with state-of-the-art security you can depend on to safeguard your products and materials with close circuit cameras, motion and sound detection and digital camera recording both inside and outside. Employment requirements at The RK Logistics Group include background checks and drug screening.

Warehouse Management System (WMS)

The RK Logistics Group uses a highly sophisticated Warehouse Management System to keep track of your inventory and to print customized reports. You can be given a password to give you the capabilities to check your inventory on line 24 hours a day 7 days a week.

Crating

From a simple wood base to oversized crates, our team of experts will design custom crates and wood containers to meet all your packaging needs. Depending on your requirements, we can supply you a variety of hardware to secure your products to enhance its re-usability.